COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Tax payments are coming in at a steady but slower rate than earlier. Total payments to date amount to $73,000. This is about 29% of the total tax commitment.

The stockpiling of sand for winter roads is nearly done. Snow fence and plow frames are the next jobs and with the weather we have had the last couple of days we may need them at any time. Even with the cold and the wind, it is a relief to have gotten by the fire threat without a major fire. I would say that the dampened ground also pleases the hunters and those providing accommodations for hunters.

No new voters have been added to the voting list as a result of the special election next week. A couple of people have inquired about the residence requirement but neither has lived here long enough to be a voter. The residence requirement is three months for a person moving from one community to another community in Maine. The requirement is six months for a person moving from another state to a community in Maine.

Occasionally the question comes up concerning the time that the town has to get a sewage treatment facility. Public hearings related to the classification of the river are scheduled to be held in three years. The town should have preliminary planning reports before the scheduled hearings.

HEALTH COUNCIL

At this time of year the Bethel Health and Service Council will be calling on its organization representatives requesting clothing, gifts, food for Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets. As in past years the supper of Sunday Schools, churches, clubs, granges, stores, organizations and individuals has meant warm clothing or a toy or a hearty meal for needy children.

Anyone having clothing donations and not solicited directly may leave them at the Dana C. Douglass barn at any time. Anyone wishing clothing may call Mrs. Charles Mason, 836-2306, Mrs. Lawrence Bailey, 824-2408, or Mrs. Vance Richardson, 824-2881 for an appointment in the barn. With cold weather approaching the barn will be closing in mid-November.

The Health Council wishes to thank those who left clothing at the barn. It has been sorted and used by those in need. Besides clothing, household items are welcomed.

Mrs. Jason Smith returned from the CMG Hospital, Lewiston, last Saturday.

The Bethel Chamber of Commerce will meet at the Sudbury Inn on Tuesday evening at 6:30. The subject under discussion for the evening will be the revision of the constitution and by-laws for greater service by the Chamber. All attending should bring their copies of the constitution for reference.

TICKETS FOR PLAYERS' TO BE AVAILABLE SOON

Bethel Players finance committee has announced that tickets for their coming production, "You Can't Take It With You", scheduled for November 22 and 23, at Odeon Hall, will go on sale this week. Both reserved section and general admission tickets will be available at Bosserman's Pharmacy, or from any members of the Bethel Players.

Future productions may be held elsewhere; but, traditionally speaking, the Bethel Players are looking forward to presenting their first play at Odeon Hall which has served the citizens of Bethel so faithfully for many years. The Players have indicated that here they can relax and give their organization a "morale" boost, and their benefit a fund-raising boost as well. At present this benefit, the Bethel Youth Center Fund, stands at $443.49; and all proceeds from this play will be added to it. However, realizing that Odeon Hall can only accommodate 300 persons each night, and in view of the many vigorous rehearsals and all the time and effort involved in producing this play, the cast will consider a third performance to further boost this fund if the citizens of Bethel and vicinity indicate enthusiastic support by purchasing their tickets early.

Reports from production committees will be discussed at the next regular meeting of the Bethel Players to be held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Bean, Main Street, on Tuesday, Nov. 5th at 8:00 p. m. Mrs. Elizabeth Smith and Mrs. Elsie Waldron will serve on the refreshment committee. All members and anyone interested in assisting on committees are urged to attend.

Two West Bethel men were hospitalized at St. Louis Hospital, Berlin, Saturday night, after the car in which they were travelling left the road and struck some trees near Gilead.

GOULD ACADEMY

Lisbon Takes Gould, 19-7

Gould Academy got off to a good start last Saturday and scored first against Lisbon High. Mike Chretien rushed over center from the one yard line after a sustained 36 yard march. Jim Corriveau place-kicked the extra point. That was all the scoring for the Huskies as they managed only five first downs in the game.

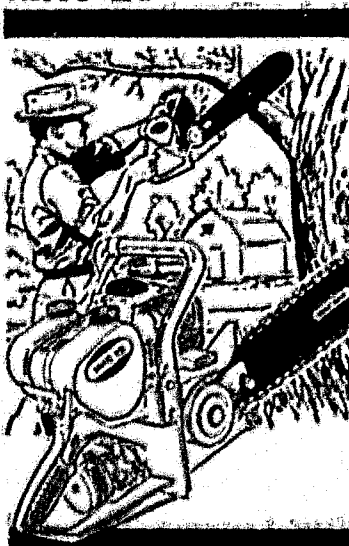

Lisbon High's hard-running backs—Karkos, Gaydos, and Beganny were not to be denied as they ripped off long gains around end and off tackle. They scored in the first period to tie the score which remained 7-7 at half time.

The visitors scored again in each of the last two periods. They proved themselves the better team by out-rushing the Huskies 329 yards to 101. Gould is now 3 and 3 for the season, with only the Fryeburg game to complete the schedule.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

As a non-profit, non-political and non-partisan organization made up of highway users representing every type of individual and business in the state, we are writing in the interest of better informing our citizens of two important matters they will resolve in the November 5 referendum vote.

These are as follows:

Question No. 2 which would authorize the issuance of $7 million in bonds for highway construction in fiscal years 1966 and 1967. The State Legislature has recognized the need of advance planning for highway programs and has adopted the policy of providing funds four years in advance.

Even if this bond issue is approved, however, their actual issuance will depend upon the actual need of funds and then only upon legislative allocation. The bonds would be retired out of General Highway Fund revenues — the gasoline and motor vehicle fees — and thus would have no effect on the overall state budget.

The bond authorization will not increase the total outstanding bond authorizations since in the next four years over $19 million of outstanding bonds will be retired.

The alternative to the bond issue is a curtailment of state road construction and a decrease in other highway programs. Because of the importance of this bond issue to the present and future economy of Maine we urge its passage.

Question No. 5 deals with the long discussed Chebeague Island Bridge Proposal. This was rejected by both the 99th and 100th Legislatures and only succeeded in getting by the 101st in its waning moments.

Although Question No. 5 calls for a $3 million bond issue for the construction of the Chebeague Bridge, it should be noted here that an expert engineering study made just this year shows that the structure would cost far more, that it is economically unfeasible.

Proponents of the Chebeague Bridge contend that $3 million will do the job. The 1963 report of the engineering firm of Wilbur Smith and Associates notes, however, that the type of structure being proposed would cost far more. The price tag would be $4,740,000, $5,205,000, $6,335,000 or $6,550,000, depending upon design.

Maine taxpayers thus would have to pay in subsidies what would amount to $20,000 or $30,000 for each year 'round resident of Chebeague Island, certainly a ridiculous proposition.

tion, and one that would be unfair to the taxpayers.

Because these subsidies would have to come from the General Highway Fund, other programs could suffer severely. Passage of Question No. 5—the Chebeague Bridge—could necessitate a cutback in the near future of such established programs as state aid, town road improvements and other services of this type.

In the interest of these important programs and saving the taxpayers of Maine millions of dollars in subsidies we ask that the voters reject Question No. 5 on November 5 and lay to rest once and for all the Chebeague Island Bridge proposal.

Persons wishing to attend are asked to notify the Office of Religious Affairs in the Memorial Union.

COUNTRY FLAVOR VOICES THAT ARE GONE

No more does one hear them. Gone are the voices that were part of the great symphony of yesteryear. Time marches on and the voices change; the tempo seems to increase as man searches for the secrets that mean a better life.

The raucous hoot of the diesel blasts the peaceful air instead of the long, lonesome-sounding, but satisfying whistle of the steam engine, echoing back among the hills and spreading across the fields. The sharp impatience of the auto horn has displaced the friendly greetings of men passing each other with horse and buggy.

Do you remember the imtient whinny of the horses as you opened the barn doors in the morning? Remember the staccato rattling of the gray-weathered wooden planks in the old bridge over the creek. Remember the music of the crackling wood in the tall, nickel-trimmed heater in the living-room?

On a fall day one would hear the song of a wood-sawing gasoline engine as farmers worked up the woodpile in the backyard. On the old cherry kitchen table, boys turned the crank of the cedar churn and listened hopefully for the clunking, monotone sound that meant the butter had finally come. And in the village blacksmith shop, there was music from the anvil as the old blacksmith pounded a red hot shoe and the orange sparks flew in a wide cloud.

Gone are those voices. Gone are many of the crafts and tasks that produced them. But sometimes a man living with his memories can hear those voices from yesteryear. The music of a great nation goes on. The symphony is never completed. One wishes that somehow against the harsh cacophony of this fast-moving era, the softer voices of the past could be blended in a stirring symphony of a nation striving to achieve its goal.

WINTERIZE YOUR CAR EARLY, SAY OFFICIALS

While crowds converged at traditional football clashes throughout Maine, the State Police reminded drivers that winter is just around the corner.

"Football is played regardless of weather conditions," the police pointed out, "and motor vehicle and pedestrian traffic also must move regardless of the weather. However, some folks wait until the last minute to get their cars ready for that first snowfall."

The enforcement group urged all motorists to have their cars winterized early to avoid the customary jams at service stations and garages when the first wintry day strikes. "Dead batteries and frozen radiators are the price too many motorists pay for procrastination," they continued.

Important steps to take — in addition to the semi-annual motor vehicle inspection in October which is required by Maine law — include:

Putting anti-freeze in the radiator—checking heater and defroster

Checking the cooling system for leaks

Substituting winter - grade lubricants

Placing a set of reinforced tire chains in the trunk for use in severe ice and snow conditions—checking battery and electrical system.

"Inadequate traction and reduced visibility are the twin bugaboos of winter driving," concluded the State Police. The motorist who prepares his car in advance to meet the challenge of ice and snow is least likely to skid, stall, or get stuck."

BULLETIN:

FOA-5X additive in Shell Heating Oil helps protect your fuel system winter after winter

THERE's a new additive in today's Shell Heating Oil. Called FOA-5X, it works round the clock to help guard your fuel system—from storage tank to burner head.

FOA-5X helps reduce the build-up of heat-robbing deposits that can collect in sensitive areas of burner nozzles. It lets Shell Heating Oil burn in a radiant, even flame. It helps reduce service calls and expense. The result: more warmth per gallon of fuel—top heating performance at minimum cost.

Before you buy your next gallon of heating oil, call us. We will give you complete details about Shell Heating Oil with FOA-5X and about our services.
